

Red Hearts Newsletter

Welcome!

I'm so glad you registered for the Red Hearts Newsletter. This is a semi-monthly newsletter dedicated to those who love to read a good romance and there are special offerings for books that are new or from authors you may have never heard of. Red Hearts comes out twice a month: around the middle of the month and at the end of the month.

It's Valentine's Day today and I wish you all a very happy and safe Valentine's Day! Enjoy the day and snuggle in to read a great romance! I am!

Contest Winner!

CONGRATULATIONS to Kelly Wickam as the January contest winner!

AND... don't forget if you find any typos in any of my books, click the email icon at the bottom of the page, let me know what they are, and I'll acknowledge you in my next book! How fun is that?

I hope you enjoy my writing journey as I'm sure to enjoy it with you.

Women of Worthy Series...

A series of novels about single, divorced, and widowed women living in the small town of Worthy, Ohio, located about 50 miles southeast of Columbus, Ohio. Each woman must battle life's curveballs at the expense of their families, friends, and the men who adore them to fulfill their greatest desires and destinies. Their Faith is tested in ways they hadn't imagined.

Available on Amazon Kindle, Kindle Unlimited, and paperback. Soon to be available on other platforms.

Book #3, Kate's Quest, was released on February 1, 2021. Check it out!

And book #4 is still in the planning stages, but hopefully, I'll start writing it within the next three to four weeks.

Stay tuned because there are many more stories in the series!

If you haven't left a review on either Amazon or Goodreads for any of the Women of Worthy books, I'd really appreciate an honest review from you on either or both of those sites!

The Women of Mia's Irishman ...

Below are the photo inspirations for Mia's Irishman, but they're not all the women in Mia's Irishman. Mrs. O'Neill and the deceased Bridget Shay are missing from the lineup.

Do they look like what you imagined? Drop me a line at the email address listed below. I'd love to hear your thoughts!

Romance in the Bible...

For your love is better than wine.

Song of Solomon 1:2

Who says there's no romance in the Bible? This book negates that notion. It's a testament of the deep, abiding love and romance between a man and a woman. Only one chapter with seventeen verses, God uses the marriage relationship between a man and a woman to show us what that relationship should be but also shows the relationship between God and His children which is another aspect of the book. The commitment theme runs throughout the book as the woman and man converse with one another and it echoes God's commitment to His children.

An excerpt from Mia's Irishman...

Context: Sean and Mia have been holed up in Sean's West Virginia cabin for several weeks due to the heavy rains and subsequent flooding.

The fast-flowing waters had receded enough that Thunder might cross it and make it to Grogan's farm to call for help, or better yet, get the rig packed and take them both out. He saddled Thunder and made his way to the creek.

A motor's rumble cut through the silence, and he craned his neck at the water-covered road. The ranch's Ford 250 pickup made its way to him.

His distant cousin, Brett Cooper, sat at the wheel with a grim look on his face until he spotted Sean. His cousin slowed the truck, rolled the window down and grinned. "You seem OK. Shannon worried for nothing."

He wanted to pummel Brett's smiling face and jovial manner. He didn't want Lass to get a look at his cousin. Brett attracted too many women.

"I'm fine. Why are you here? Why didn't Shannon come?" Sean chanced a glance at the cabin and Lass leaned over the cabin's railing and strained to see who talked to him. What was he thinking? He couldn't have his twin show his face here and expose the lie he'd created.

"Your father called. He's sick and told your brother he needed you to come to Ireland."

"Sick? Didn't Shannon call him?"

"Sure, but your dad wouldn't talk to him. He grouched that your dad is stubborn and wants his firstborn to come as soon as possible."

Sean nodded. "Have the waters receded enough to get my rig through?"

"Got through with this monster. Just have to go slow."

Thunder nickered and Sean rubbed the horse's neck. "Have to close the cabin and get everything settled at the ranch before I leave for Ireland."

"I'll help you get things packed."

Sean panicked and his voice rose. "No." Then he lowered his voice. "I prefer to do things my way and don't want to rush. Da is melodramatic. I conferred with the doctor when he checked Da not three months ago."

Brett lifted one shoulder, removed his sunglasses, and squinted. "What are you hiding?"

"Nothing. Turn the truck around and take it to the ranch. Tell Shannon I'm OK and I'll be there sometime tomorrow. And then I'll make travel arrangements."
